BLT meeting:

I. Attitudes are contagious. Please remember your attitude toward zone can be a tool that works for you or against you. The main purpose of an advisor/advisee program is for you to get to know your students and to become a trusted adult, which they can turn.

II. Theme: Animals – example – Lanford's Lions; Pitt's Pythons
For a list of animals - <http://animals.nationalgeographic.com/>

III. Planned Activities:

- Club Day
- Intramurals
- Quiz Bowl
- JAM Time (Jaguars Assessing Media)
- Zone's choice

Zone's choice – One day a week with an activity that the students and advisor agree on. This should be 4 separate activities and the activities stay the same the entire year. Example – first Tuesday – board/card games, second Tuesday – homework help, third Tuesday – Walk around the parking lot and fourth Tuesday – Charades, Name that Tune, etc. Other ideas: arts and crafts, campus clean-up, reader's theatre, or scavenger hunt.

IV. No Jag Tags during zone.

V. JAM Time- Each zone will share Junior Scholastic with a zone in the other grade level. (Ask a BLT representative to explain).

VI. Mr. Isenhour and Mrs. Covington will meet with the students during zone in the gym.

7th grade – Thursday, August 27, 2009

8th grade – Friday, August 28, 2009

Please email Tamara your zone name by Friday, August 28, 2009
